A Stroke of Creativity Hosts "You Have A Friend in Me!" Toy Story Painting Day April 9th Proceeds to benefit the NJ Center for Tourette Syndrome

Monroe, NJ- Who doesn't love the Toy Story movies? We sure do! We also happen to love some very special people who have Tourette Syndrome. That's why we're celebrating friendship and family with a very special Toy Story Day to support the New Jersey Center for Tourette Syndrome at A Stroke of Creativity, April 9th from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Come in and paint Buzz, Woody, the Pizza Planet Rocket or any of our other bisque and we will donate 15% of your purchase to the New Jersey Center for Tourette Syndrome. The goal of NJCTS is to provide support for kids with Tourette and their families through referrals to services, education and training educators and health care providers. The work of NJCTS allows families, peers and professionals to better help those with TS. NJCTS also supports research programs that will lead to better treatments and hopefully a cure.

On April 9th, come to A Stroke of Creativity and learn more about Tourette Syndrome while watching the Toy Story movies and creating a masterpiece. You're welcome to bring snacks to enjoy and share. Our mission is to provide a relaxing, soothing outlet to pursue, or discover, your artistic side. Whether you enjoy painting, ceramics, fusing glass, making silver jewelry, working in acrylic, oil or watercolor paints or other artistic endeavors A Stroke of Creativity is the place for you! Conveniently located in Monroe Township, we're only minute from Routes 9 & 18 in the Franklin Plaza- 557 Englishtown Road. For more information visit www.astrokeofcreativity.com

Let's show our friends and family members with Tourette how much they mean to us. Come out and support this very special event! If you have any questions call Patty or Bob at 732-446-4268.
